Spring 2018: Week 3

Class 1 now has an amazing display of our Winter Trees paintings, inspired by the work of Gustav Klimt. The children have explored colours and patterns to create their own art. We are very proud of it and hope that you will find time to come into class to see it.

Mrs Bartlem has let me know that we are missing some book packs from our Love Books Library. Please can you check if you have any at home. The titles are ABC Animal Rhymes, Baby Elephant and A New House for Mouse.

We are learning a skipping dance to perform at the Class 1 Celebration Assembly before half-term. You can have a go at the dance on youtube:

Class 1 have asked me to let you know about to a fun but slightly scary dance on youtube called Skeleton Dance Remix.

Next week

Just a reminder about bringing book bags in every day please.

It is very helpful to have homework back to school after the weekend, by Thursday morning at the latest please.

We will be starting our new History topic of Toys - Now and Then.

We will be comparing the toys children play with now to the toys their grandparents had.
